What I've been doing here

CyberArk context

Hands-on writing, stakeholder interviews, SHIP flows

Early feedback shaped this

How this was reviewed

Practical first, philosophy second

Before the guide, one idea

One necessary principle

The left side of the slide features an abstract background with flowing, wavy lines in various shades of blue, ranging from light sky blue at the top to deep navy blue at the bottom.

The recipe

Great text = What + So what + What next

÷ User state of mind + tone spectrum

What it actually contains

What's in the guide

Recipe · Voice & tone · Asset patterns · Process notes

Two ways

How to use it

As a reference

As a prompt

This isn't static

Living system

Questions, gaps, and rules evolve together
